TOGO'S TACTICS ARE OUTLINED

Open Sea Fight May Be Avoided.

Night Torpedo Attacks to Confuse and Scatter Russian Fleet.

Faster Japanese Cruisers Will Then Surround and Destroy Individual Ships of the Enemy.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 15, 11:26 p. m. -The week closes with the Government's eyes and hopes centered on Vice-Admiral Rojestvansky, and gradually something like genuine enthusiasm has been aroused by the Russian Admiral's hardinged in sailing straight for a combat with the

There are many naval officers who do not believe that Vice-Admiral Togo will secont the challenge. In their opinion the Japanese will be too-prudent in such a crisis to risk the destruction of their fleet.

Will Avoid Open Sea Fight.

They believe that Togo's tactics will be to avoid an open sea fight, and that he torpedo attacks in the hope of throwing the Russian fleet into confusion, scattering the line of ships and giving his faster battleships and cruisers an opportunity to surround and destroy them fadvidually, and, if some of Rojestvensky's ships escape to Vladivostok, to bottle them up there.

Peace Counsels Thrust Aside.

Pence Counsels Thrust Aside.

For the moment the conservative counsels of the peace party, which party redicions that the military situation will be utterly hopelms if Rejestvensky's fleet in crapietely destroyed, and considers it test to open negotiations before the issues a put to a test, are rudely thrust aside. The Admiralty clamors for a chance to estrict its reputation, and the war party generally seems to be convinced that the imperor of Bussia's position will not be core if the battle is fest, while the destruction of Togo's fleet would spell ruin or Japan.

Emperor Confident of Victory.

Emperor Confident of Victory.

Emperor Confident of Victory.

The Emperor himself, it is understood, expresses great confidence in victory, and should victory come he will undoubtedly fix the imperial seal to the big naval programma prepared by the Admiralty.

The possibility of a complete change in the fortunes of war has had an appreciable effect in etromptouing the reactionary influences about his Majesty, and the week has wiressed another defeat of President of the Committee of Ministers Vitte, and the vector of the proposed ecclesistical council by the Emperor fundational angulity is re-established."

Reforms Are Not Real

Reforms Are Not Real.

Meanwhile the endless bureaucratic commissions charged with various reforms are working brisidy and making great noise but little real bendway, as all their decisions are provisional only and must go through the Council of the Empire and receive Imperial approval before being translated into acts. But while the words of all breathe reform, acts tend to a contrary direction. For instance, the press commission decrees additional liberties, but the censorship regulations grow severer.

Barristers Driven Out.

The deplorable lack of confidence in the Government's sincerity in placing the reforms in the hands of the bureaucracy resulted in the formation this week by hearristers of a nucleus for a national organization in favor of a constitution, and because of this they were given notice to leave the city within twenty-four hours. Even M. Souveris, editor of Novoe Vremya, who is opposed to constitutionalism, cries out against the delay. "The bureaucracy asks for patience," he says, "so did Kurapotkin, and he suffored defeat at the hands of the Japanese." The deplorable lack of confidence i announcement was made today from the headquarters of the Japanese armies in headquarters of the Japanese armies in Manchuria:

"Our force advancing east along the Hailung road defeated a body of the enemy April ist, near Hetshimu, ten miles east of Fanshi, and vigorously chased them toward Tachotsu, twenty-six miles east of Panshi.

"Another force advancing north from Singking attacked the enemy, holding a position five miles south of Pachatsu.

"There has been no change elsewhere in the military situation"

Forced Japs to Retire.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 15.—General Linevitch, in a dispatch to Emperor Nicholas, dated yesterday, says: "Our cavalry April 10th found the Japanese in occupation of a hill southward of Mount Gaoschan, in the valley of the Hun river. The cavalry surned this position and forced the Japanese to evacuate it and retire westward."

It was several minutes before Mrs. Averitt's little daughter realized what had happened. When she understood that her mother had attempted to take her own life the/child threw her arms about her purent's neck and solbed piteously. "Open your eyes, mamma," begged the little girl between sobs. In her childish way she pleaded with her mother, asking her not to die. The girl cried bitterly and refused to be consoled until the soffering mother opened her eyes and assured her that she was not going to die. NEW SCOUT CRUISERS.

Important Addition to Be Made to United States Navy.

WASHINGTON, April 15.-Bids were pened at the Navy department today for construction of three scout cruisers which were authorized by the act of Congress of April 27, 1994.

gress of April 27, 1981.

With the completion of these ships there will be added to the navy a new and unique type of vessel. In the opinion of navel officers the war in the far East has demonstrated the great value of these ships, and since these are planned to have a big speed and great steaming radius, they are expected to prove important additions to the navy service.

Their building also opens up the probability for the introduction of turbine machinery, as the department in the advertisement for bids announced that alternative proposals for the installation of turbine engines would receive the department's consideration. In the meantime the bureau of steam engineering has been making a study of turbine systems and has been closely observing all experiments that have been conducted in that direction.

The scout ships are to be 450 feet long.

and has been closely observing all experiments that have been conducted in that direction.

The scout ships are to be 420 feet long with a breadth of forty-six feet eight inches and a draught of sixteen feet nine and a half inches. The displacement of speed trial is to be not more than 3750 tens. Provision is made for a total coal carrying capacity of about 1250 tons.

Each will be provided with a battery of 120 three-inch rapid-fire guns and two submerged torpedo tubes. Four smoke-stacks will rise to a height of seventy-two feet above the base line. The maximum time allowed for completion of the vessels is fixed at thirty-two months if reciprocating engines are adopted and thirty-six months if turbines are adopted. A total weight of about 184 tons of nickel steel will be employed in the construction of each vessel for protective purposes. The speed of the new vessels will be twenty-four knots.
